The idyllic setting at Bear Gully Coastal Cottages is a rarity these days and is undoubtedly its greatest asset: absolute beachfront wilderness. Wander down to the waterfront of Waratah Bay, where rock pools and a secret swimming beach can keep you entertained for hours. This secluded location is ideal for those without need for constant entertainment or distraction; simply bring your favourite food and wine and disappear into nature for a leisurely afternoon picnic on a near-deserted beach.

It is also rare to find such superbly appointed cottages tucked within nature's fold. Thanks to a clever design, each has uninterrupted water views both from the central lounge (decorated in bright seaside colours) and the two bedrooms. But the most favourable comments have been about simply lying in the hammock on the front deck, which seems to inspire hours of sea gazing.

In addition to the two-bedroom cottages, there is also The Rookery, a three-bedroom house with large lounge, dining and kitchen that sleeps up to ten.
